

USING COOKIE-FILES

The current policy with regard to cookie-files explains how and why, while you are using or have been using the CV Pro.ee webpage, the cookie-files may be saved in your device and/or our company may get access to cookie-files, web consultants, pixels, and other similar technologies. The company may make changes in this policy of using cookie-files at any time. The present terms and conditions form an inseparable part of the privacy policy of the company (hereinafter referred to in the text as the Company).

1. What are cookie-files?

Cookie-files are small text files that are saved in your computer or mobile device. They contain certain amount of data that our webpage may send to your browser. Cookie-files can be saved on the hard disc in the computer, and they provide access to our web server. Those cookie-files can be removed, and they enable us to modify our webpages and services accordingly.

2. How do our webpages use cookie-files and other monitoring technologies?

The company uses cookie-files and other monitoring technologies in order to identify you and your interests, remember your preferences and see how our webpages are used. We use cookie-files and other technologies in order to verify the access to specific contents of our webpages, protect our webpages and process any enquiries you may submit.

Our partners help us to provide relevant services to advertising and analytical companies, such as Google Analytics, which may also save cookie-files in your computer. Please read our Privacy Policy in order to make sure that you understand how cookie-files are used.

3. Objective

We use cookie-files mentioned above in connection with the activities of our Company and different solutions and services that we provide. In addition to that, we use cookie-files to prepare statistics which, for example, can be used in order to improve the functioning of our webpage depending on your needs. We also use some cookie-files for marketing purposes.

Cookie-files may not be used to identify you as a person, but we may use the information about the webpages that are visited from your computer. The Company uses data only in accordance with valid legislation.

4. Consent to using cookie-files

When you are visiting our webpage or extension for the first time, you will see the information about using cookie-files. You give your consent to using cookie-files by pressing the "Accept" button. If you do not activate/press the "Accept" button, you do not give your consent, and some cookie-files will not be saved in your computer, except for the ones that are required for the purpose of proper functioning of webpages. We will still be saving them in order to remember your choices, and during your next visit no other cookie-files will be used if you do not press "Accept".

5. How can I refuse from visiting the webpage or withdraw my consent?

You can send us a notice or set up your e-mail programme so that it would switch off the function that allows to download remote images and prevent sending any kind of links in e-mail messages.
